Die-Struck Econamel CP-10

An affordable alternative to cloisonné? - with an equally high level of excitement and craftsmanship! Ridges formed through a die struck process are injected with an enamel producing a distinctively detailed lapel pin. To complete this remarkably high quality lapel pin a high gloss pigmentation is applied and kiln fired. This process produces brilliant coloring and a lapel pin that will be worn with pride.

Die-Struck Cloisonne CP-2

Cloisonné? , an ancient art dedicated to decorative detail is an ideal process for creating a lapel pin that shines with brilliance. These die-struck pins go through an intricate process requiring finely ground glass to be mixed into a paste, applied to specific areas of the pin and then fired in a kiln at 1200 °F. To provide the finest detail for your order each pin is completed by sanding, polishing and plating the pins in gold, silver or bronze.

Die-Struck and Cut Out CP-6

Picture your logo or image in a two or three dimensional setting or appealing cut-out design. Die Struck and cut-out lapel pins are unique and eye-catching. The exquisite detail possible with these pins is amazing and will certainly draw attention to your design.

All lapel pins are quoted by size, design, number of colors, type, etc. Send rough drawing or art stating size and quantity and we will quote!
