A-2 Flight Jacket-Premium Goatskin Leather

Now this premium goatskin leather flight jacket can be yours, made to current U.S. Military Spec FNS-PD-98-02 in our U.S. factory that also still makes the G-1 leather flight jacket. This American made classic is hand-crafted in rugged premium goatskin leather with many new features. For example, dual inside chest pockets, dual side-entry pockets, an interior pen pocket, underarm gussets, and side panels that reduce "hiking up". The current USAF specifications for the A-2 still feature the original epaulettes, snap-down collar and hidden zipper from the classic WWII design. The timeless design of the A-2 not only made military history; it made Hollywood history too; this is the jacket John Wayne wore in "Flying Tigers", Gregory Peck's second skin in "Twelve O'clock High", and the jacket Clark Gable wouldn't fly without in "Test Pilot". No flying jacket is more famous than the A-2.

And now you can wear it proudly too!

Color: Seal Brown or Black.
